General Procedure for Dealing with

Problem Behaviors

Version 2.1

July 28, 2004

Anne W. Todd

Intended Audience

The General Procedure for Dealing with Problem Behaviors is used primarily by SWIS Facilitators to support school teams as they design a system for documenting and monitoring office discipline referrals that is SWIS-compatible. School teams can also use the procedure as they prepare a coherent system for dealing with problem behavior in their school and for the use of SWIS.

Description

The General Procedure for Dealing with Problem Behaviors is an example for schools to use as a strategy for defining the steps to follow after observing a problem behavior event.
